Dear Parents,

We have had a number of incidents of late where by children are being picked up (by car) and not strapped in appropriately. Can I please remind you that the law states that every child must wear a seat belt and it's the responsibility of the driver to ensure all passengers within the car are safe.

Also, UK law states that children must use a child car seat until they're 12 years old or 135cm (4ft 5in) tall, whichever comes first. But safety experts recommend you use a child car seat for all children under 150cm (4ft 11in).

Thank you for your continued support on what I'm sure you will agree is a serious matter and that the children's safety is paramount.

Yours sincerely

Adam Cooper
Head Teacher
